

Instructions

As a retired member, you may only change beneficiary designations for those persons who are eligible to receive a one-time lump sum payment. You cannot change the primary beneficiary designated at retirement to receive a continuance of your monthly benefit. Depending on the specific provisions of the retirement option you chose at retirement, you may not be able to change your primary beneficiary designation. If during retirement, you have gotten a divorce or terminated a registered domestic partnership*, contact SamCERA for instructions regarding changing your beneficiary.

Information regarding the retirement options and changing a beneficiary can be found on our website www.samcera.org, or call us at: (650) 599-1234, or Toll-Free: (800) 339-0761. Before completing this form:

- Make sure you understand the specific provisions of the retirement option you chose at retirement.
- Make sure you understand that changing your beneficiary designation may affect the amount of money your beneficiary(ies) receive when you die.
- Make sure you understand the difference between “primary” and “contingent” beneficiary designations.

Primary Beneficiary: The person(s) or entity(ies) who would receive your benefit upon your death. An entity can receive a lump sum payment only. As a retired member, you can only change your primary beneficiary if you selected an option that provides your primary beneficiary with a one-time lump sum payment. You cannot change your primary beneficiary if you selected an option that provides for a monthly continuance.

Contingent Beneficiary: The person(s) or entity(ies) who would receive a one-time lump sum payment if all your primary beneficiaries die before you. Contingent beneficiaries can be changed because they are only eligible for a one-time lump sum payment of any remaining contributions and interest in your account.

If you listed more than one person in either of these beneficiary categories, remember to relist all of the beneficiaries that you are designating in each beneficiary category that you are changing. You can list more than one person as a primary beneficiary and more than one person as a contingent beneficiary. If you list more than one person in each of these categories, those individuals will share any benefit or payment that is issued. Because they will share the benefit/payment, you must also indicate the percentage that you would like each person to receive. The percentages within each designation must add up to 100%. If any of the listed beneficiaries predeceases you and you do not designate a new beneficiary, the percentage amount of the lump sum payment that was designated for that beneficiary category will be evenly distributed to the remaining beneficiaries in that beneficiary category.

Note: The information provided on this form will replace the current designations that you have on file in your account. If any of the beneficiary categories are left blank, your account will be updated to remove any existing beneficiaries in that category.

After SamCERA reviews your completed form and verifies your retirement option, your beneficiary designation will be changed.

If you have a spouse, registered domestic partner, or eligible minor child and you do not list them as beneficiaries, their rights may be superior to and supersede the rights of any other beneficiary.

*Please note that for the purpose of spousal benefits, domestic partnerships must be registered with the California Secretary of State. (A County of San Mateo Affidavit of Domestic Partnership does not qualify.)
