Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) for Early-2013 Retirees

SamCERA members who retired on or before April 1, 2013, will receive a Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA) this year between 2.0% and 2.5%. The COLA amount will be added to the base benefit amount, thus increasing the total monthly benefits.

The amount of the COLA retirees receive will depend on the retirement plan. The COLA for Plans 1 and 2 is 2.5%, while the COLA for Plans 4, 5 and 6 is 2.0%. Plan 3 provisions do not provide for a COLA.

This year's COLA is due to a modest inflation rise in 2012. SamCERA’s COLAs are calculated according to California law, which requires them to be based on the change in the annual Consumer Price Index (CPI) for the San Francisco-Oakland-San Jose area (as determined by the Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics). COLAs can increase or decrease depending on whether the Bay Area experiences inflation or deflation, but your pension will never go below the basic benefit allowance you receive when you retire.

If you're considering retirement next year, be sure to start the process early. If you want to be able to take advantage of next year's COLA, if any, you must retire on or before April 1, 2014. Remember -- it takes time to process retirement applications. So if you want to retire before April 2014, contact SamCERA in advance so you can submit your forms in February 2014.

Your Interest Rate Credit for 2012

SamCERA member accounts earned a total of 1.50% interest last year. This includes 1.24% interest credited at the end of December, and 0.26% credited at the end of June.

The interest your SamCERA account earns is tied to the performance of the SamCERA investment fund, which was valued at $2.56 billion at the end of 2012.

While SamCERA’s fund has posted a modest return of more than 11% over the previous two fiscal years, these gains—as well as recent losses from the recession—are smoothed out over the long-term to minimize the impact of volatility on the fund. Because of this smoothing, we're still paying for the... down years of the recession. That’s why the interest credited to member accounts typically doesn’t match the investment fund earnings for a given year.

A Note About Account Balances

The main use of account balances is for payouts to members who terminate and take a refund of contributions. If you retire and receive a lifetime retirement benefit, it will not be based on your account balance. Your retirement benefit will be based on your years of service, your age at retirement, and your final average compensation.

Your account balance will always be equal to your contributions plus the interest credited. Interest is credited twice a year—once on June 30, and again on December 31. No matter what happens to the economy, your account will not decrease nor will it be credited with more interest than the annual amount the fund is expected to earn—known as the fund’s “assumed earnings rate” (currently 7.5%).

Additionally, keep in mind that you cannot borrow money from your account at any time, and you cannot withdraw your employer’s contributions under any circumstances. You will benefit from your employer’s contribution when you retire from SamCERA.
